Be a Blood Donor

There will be a Blood Donor Clinic on campus on Thursday October 9 from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm in the All College Lounge, room A117, and your contributions are solicited. If you have any questions about donating blood, direct them to Health Services, 2964.

New Associate Dean

The Search Committee for the Associate Dean of Instructional Services (post vacated by Patty Groves) has finished searching. President Doug Jardine will be taking to the October meeting of the Board their recommendation that Dr. Jon Jessiman, currently Associate Dean of Career/Vocational, be appointed as Associate Dean.

"The date at which he takes up the new duties is yet to be determined and will be chosen to ensure that the Career Division is not left shorthanded," said Jardine.

Oberndorf leaves for year in Malaysia

This week is your last chance to say goodbye to Business Management instructor Al Oberndorf, who is leaving October 1 for a year's teaching assignment in Malaysia. He has received a 13 month contract through the international consulting company CEGIR for the position of Training Consultant at the Malaysian Entrepreneurial Development Centre (MEDEC), Mara Institute of Technology, in Kuala Lumpur.

Oberndorf officially starts his new job on November 1, but is leaving early to work on setting up contacts for the CANASEAN program in Manila, Jakarta, and Bangkok. During his year in Kuala Lumpur, he will also continue to work on college affairs in the Southeast Asian region.

Among the duties attached to his job for Mara, Oberndorf will be analyzing and recommending on human resources and needs of MEDEC, and conducting short seminars and workshops on a variety of topics. In December he will spend two weeks on an outside contract conducting two workshops for the Prime Minister's Office for mid-level entrepreneurs in Malaysia. For this contract he will also be bringing in Associate Dean of Career/

FREE FOOD!

While TANSTAAFL holds true (There Ain't No Such Thing As A Free Lunch), there is a free dinner coming up on Wednesday, September 30. The Instructional Services Division is hosting a free western BBQ in the east end of the North Cafeteria and ALL COLLEGE PERSONNEL ARE INVITED. Come one, come all, and if you really want to spend your money, you can do so at the no host bar. The event runs from 4 to 7 pm, with food being served at 5:00, and the menu includes BBQ hamburgers (carbohydrate laminated bovine protein wafers, for those into tech-talk), salad and baked beans. See you there!

Vocational, Jon Jessiman, and Business Management instructor Doug Loblaw.

"In my opinion, the ASEAN marketplace is not recognized today for what the value will be for Canada in the near future," commented Oberndorf.

"The ASEAN region is a new frontier with a tremendous untapped potential."

Although a year in Malaysia will "dislocate" him from the North American market, and he realizes that it will take some time to get back into things,

Oberndorf will come back as a specialist in Southeast Asia, with expertise in Malaysia. "This will validate the experiences I've accumulated in the last couple of years," he said.

Capilano students depart for Japan

"I've always wanted to go to Japan," says Academic student Colleen Purdie, and she is getting her wish right now, because she and Christina Campbell, Studio Art student, left for Toyota last week to begin their stint as Capilano's exchange students at Aichi Gakusen College in Japan.

The two Capilano students will be spending approximately six months at Aichi Gakusen, studying Japanese language, history and culture, and tutoring Japanese students in conversational English. In addition, as Colleen is a preschool supervisor, she is hoping to be able to fit in an ECE course, while Christina would like to take Art.

The Capilano students will both be living with Japanese families, and although it will undoubtedly be a bit of a culture shock, they have had the advantage of being able to talk to our two returned students from last year, Jillan Valpy and Colette Hogue, who gave them valuable tips on what to pack and what sort of weather to expect. After the semester is over, they have the option of staying a few months extra to travel and sightsee in Japan.

When they return to Vancouver, Christine plans to come back to Capilano and finish her program, and Colleen hopes to work for a year before returning to school. But that's a long way ahead, and for the past few weeks all their thoughts have been focused on Japan—both the excitement that lies ahead in a new country, and the friends and family that they will miss.

College thanked for "pitching in"

The weather and the College community both cooperated on Sunday, September 20, to make the United Way slowpitch game between Capilano and the cast and crew of the TV series Danger Bay a real success. Food, prizes and fun were had, over $400 was raised for the United Way, and if the College lost the game—oh well, there's always next year.

Lynne Hamilton, event organizer, would like to thank the Cap College "Good Guy Teams" and Danger Bay "Wailers", everyone who came out to support the game, and especially those who helped with the tickets and refreshment sales. Also a special thanks to those who donated food and prizes:

Beaver Foods, Capilano College
Neptune Food Suppliers Ltd.
Weston Bakeries Ltd.
Gray Beverage Co. Lt.
Canyon Gardens
P.J.'s Allstar Cafe
Cheers Restaurant
Coach House
Hobbit House Restaurant
Entertainment '87
Beverly Ball and Company
Buns Master Bakery

And still more thanks to Barb Renaud (Beaver Foods, North Campus), Bruce Baigent (Maintenance), Cathy Storey (Financial Services), Norma (Counselling) and kids for doing a great job with tickets, Greg (A.C.T. student) for cooking the best hot dogs in town, Joe Iacobellis (Athletics) and Kim "The Skunk".

Edna Sakata from MPC was on hand with a video camera recording the event, and is hoping to have the finished tape ready to be shown at the Instructional Services party on September 30. Also coming up in the United Way campaign is a raffle for parking spaces in the north and south lots—stay tuned.

Cap Corner open

The student store is up and running for another term, and among the items being offered for sale is bulk candy—closet sugar addicts have been spotted making frequent trips to the bins. Cap Corner is run by the students in the Retail Management program.

Memorial Award Presented

President Douglas Jardine and Retail Management Coordinator Eva Hall present Jacqueline Schneider (centre) with the Mary Anne Yzerman Memorial Citizenship Award. Schneider is entering her second year in the Retail Management Program. The award was created in honour of first year student Mary Anne Yzerman who died in a boating accident on Ruby Lake five years ago.

Ondaatje to read

Michael Ondaatje, author of Coming Through Slaughter, Secular Love, and, most recently, In the Skin of a Lion, will be reading on campus on Friday, October 2. Anyone interested is welcome to come and listen in the faculty/staff lounge (H402) from 8 to 9 pm.

Instructor receives award

Labour Studies instructor Paul Petrie, who has taught at Cap since 1982, was one of only five people in Canada chosen for the Corpus Certificate of Merit awarded during Occupational Health and Safety Week in June. The Corpus awards "recognize the work of Canada's unsung heroes...who have made valuable contributions to the occupational health and safety field." Among Petrie's contributions to occupational health and safety in this country are numerous publications and the development of innovative courses in Industrial Disease and Disability Pensions, and he has taught standard WCB appeals and advanced labour advocate appeals.

Labour Studies evening and weekend courses start in October, and Petrie will be teaching a course in November on Repetitive Motion and Back Injury Appeals.

BEWARE OF TOWTRUCKS!

Our faithful Payless parking patrol will be back on Monday, October 5, and any illegally parked vehicles will be removed at the owners' very painful and inconvenient expense.

Should your car go missing while in a fire zone, the procedure is to call Payless at 988-4176 and make arrangements with the dispatcher to either meet the towtruck driver at the compound (at 3rd and Lloyd), or to have the driver, if available, pick you up outside the North Cafe. The charge is $30, plus $5 storage per each additional day. You can pay by cash, VISA or Mastercard, but NOT by cheque.

Got questions? Need a parking permit? Call Ken Hughes at 2962.

And watch where you park!

Apparently some people from the College have been parking in the Jaycee House parking lot. (Jaycee House is the small meeting hall on Lillooet just south of the stables.) The Jaycees don't appreciate this and have issued a warning that cars parking there for other than Jaycee House business will be towed. Beware!

People around Cap

Communications instructor Crawford Killan has a new science fiction novel out on the stands. The Fall of the Republic is a prequel to Empire of Time, published several years ago. There will also be a third book in that series—it has been accepted by the publishers and will be coming out next year.

.... ECE instructor Lois Rennie has had her proposal accepted to do a workshop, along with her sister, at the National Association for Education of Young Children (NAEYC) Conference to be held in Chicago in October. Jon Jessiman, Associate Dean of Career/Vocational, has been appointed Chairman of the Advisory Board of the North Shore Economic Development Centre, a one year term. The NSEDC operates through a grant administered by the College, and offers information and assistance to entrepreneurs on the North Shore.

.... Cap President Doug Jardine has been asked to sit on the Community Futures Committee for the Sunshine Coast. Community Futures is a Federal government program designed to give economic aid to communities with severe unemployment, and generally focuses on retraining and small business development. Jolene Bordewick from the Alternative Career Training Program addressed ICBC personnel on September 25. The ACT Program for Learning Handicapped adults has been working with ICBC for the past year in support of one of their clients who is a student in the program, and ICBC was interested in a report on the student, and on the Job Entry work ACT has done over the summer. Josephine Jungic, Fine Arts instructor, received an $8,000 grant from the Canada Council Social Services and Humanities Research Department to conduct research on the painting by Sebastion del Piombo entitled Cardinal Bandinello Sauli and Three Companions painted in 1516 and now housed in the National Gallery in Washington, D.C. She spent two months in London, Rome and Genoa doing research. Alan Smith, Director of Planning, is chairing the newly formed Economic Development Committee in Squamish, as well as continuing in his role as Chairman for the North Shore Economic Development Advisory committee. Dean of Academic Studies, Frank Gelin, acted as vice-chairman of a committee formed by District of North Vancouver Mayor Marilyn Baker to twin the Seymour area with Toke, a small community outside the city of Chiba, not far from Tokyo. The twinning arrangements were completed at the end of July.

Instructor, student featured in book

An eagerly awaited publication every four years, is the Fibrearts Design Book, published by Fibrearts magazine. The new edition will be released in October, and will featured illustrations of work by Lesley Richmond, fabric printing instructor, and Liz Jensen, 1987 graduate of the Clay and Textile Arts Program.

More than 5,000 slides and photographs were submitted by artists from around the world for inclusion in this book, and 500 were selected. The volume, with lavish colour illustrations, features contemporary expressions in textile techniques such as quilting, needlepoint, weaving, knitting, embroidery, sewing, fabric design, feltmaking and papermaking. Among the photos featured will be one of a silk pleated construction in a plexiglass box by Lesley Richmond, and a mono-printed scarf by Liz Jensen. The Fibrearts Design Book will be available in the college bookstore.

Student's works on show

Second year Studio Art student David Pirrie has a display of his work—"Colour and Compassion" on at Taf's Cafe, 829 Granville from September 28 to November 1.

Dial Direct!!!

Putting in Direct In Dial numbers to most departments was an attempt to cut down on the load on the switchboard and allow callers to get through faster. Unfortunately, among those who won't use the new numbers Cap College people are just about the worst offenders—we always call 986-1911 because we've got that number memorized.

Hence, there has been printed up a handy little directory of Frequently Called Direct In Dial Numbers that will be distributed to all College employees so that you can carry it around with you or take it home. Lynne Hamilton gets credit for this intelligent idea, Jessie McCready and Pauline Clark on the Switchboard came up with the list, and Linda Givens did the printing. Extra copies will be available through the Public Relations department.

Counselling holds afternoon "quickies"

The Counselling department is sponsoring a series of workshops this fall on subjects such as Survival Skills for Adult Learners, and Stress Management, and they are also doing a series of "quickie" workshops all scheduled during the open block time on Tuesday from 1:00 to 2:30 pm. These latter cover a wide variety of topics including Handling Criticism, Procrastination (how NOT to), and Resume Writing. Counselling workshops are all listed on a flyer available through that department or send your procrastinating students to Counselling in M building.

One day conference coming to Cap

The Pacific Instructional Media Association (PIMA) and the Canadian Association for Distance Education (CADE) are hosting a mini-conference at Capilano on "Linking Learning and Technology."

This is a one day conference on October 16, but there will be a reception to kick it off the evening before. Four seminar blocks are scheduled during the day, and participants will be able to choose from 12 subjects including Communicating by Computer, Electronic Mail, Producing a Telecourse and Desktop Publishing. For more information on the conference contact Jim Bizzocchi or Peter Thompson in Media Resources.

Workshop to feature controversial psychiatric issues

The Counselling Departments of Capilano College and VCC, King Edward Campus, are co-hosting a workshop on October 24, featuring well-known psychiatrist R.D. Laing, and B.C. psychologist Andrew Feldmar. In "Taking Care of Others: The Limits of Therapy", Laing and Feldmar will discuss the "Philadelphia Association of London", an organization concerned with setting up households as places of sanctuary, refuge and dwelling, where people may live without receiving any treatment they do not want, and "Integra Housholds Association", a similar local group. Laing will also be giving a premier presentation of a controversial videotape, in which he works with a psychotic patient, and there will be a live demonstration with a client.

This workshop will take place Saturday, October 24 in the King Edward Campus auditorium from 10 am to 4 pm. The registration fee is $70, which includes lunch. For more information contact Continuing Education at VCC, 687-1757.

International Careers Seminar upcoming

A free International Trade Careers Seminar is being held on Thursday, October 1 at the Discovery Theatre, B.C. Enterprise Centre (at the former Plaza of Nations site on the Expo grounds). This event, aimed at university and college students who are considering careers with an international orientation, is part of Canada Export Trade Month, sponsored by the Province of B.C.

The orientation runs from 9 am to 12:30 and will include: opening remarks by the President of the Asia Pacific Foundation of Canada, a panel discussion on International Marketing Careers, a speech by Dr. Pat McGeer, and a panel discussion on International Service Industry Careers. Panelists include representatives from educational institutions, major companies, and the federal and provincial government.

Anyone wishing further information on this should call Anne-Marie Sleeman, Department of Regional Industrial Expansion, 661-2271 or 666-0434. There are also some flyers on the event in the Public Relations Department, A118.

FOCUS ON INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

Workshop to be held at Cap

The ACCC is sponsoring a series of workshops on International Studies topics, and two of them will be held in B.C. On November 30, December 1 and 2 there will be a workshop at Capilano College on "The Project Management Cycle—Planning, Monitoring, Evaluation" with Consultant Lloyd I. Baron, PhD. And October 26-27 a workshop on International Development Opportunities for Colleges and Institutes will be held at Camosun College in Victoria. If you are interested in more information on either of these workshops, contact Rob Turner, Dean of Instructional Services, at 2025.

Australian Commonwealth Scholarships

The AUCC has put out a notice on 1989 Australian Commonwealth Scholarships for study at the graduate level beginning in March 1989. Applications must be made by December 31, 1987—for more details call Public Relations at 2002 and we'll send you a copy of the brochure.

Director wanted in Philippines

Applications are being invited for the position of Director of Colombo Plan Staff College for Technician Education, starting in early 1988. Deadline for applying is October 31—for a copy of the notice contact Rob Turner or Public Relations.

COLOPHON

However sporadically the Informer may appear in your mail, it is valiantly attempting to come out at least every two weeks during the Fall and Spring terms. This scurrilous sheet is produced by the Public Relations Department, room A118, local 2903 or 2002, and submissions are greeted with joy and delight. Photos are generally taken by Edna Sakata in MPC and prepared for publication by Dave Sharrock. Printing is done by Linda Givens and Dave Callow in the Print Shop and distribution is handled by the denizens of the mail room/typing pool. There is a rumour that Donna McMahon is the editor of all this, but she'll deny it vehemently.
